Timeless island: On Norway's Arctic Sommarøy Island, locals live free from clocks. With dark winters and endless summer daylight, painting at midnight or swimming at dawn feels natural. Residents aim to drop formal schedules, building a community on spontaneity and shared joy. Visitors join in, leaving their watches on a symbolic bridge. While some question how daily life adjusts, the island's rhythm sparks intrigue and inspires others to rethink modern routines.

Pendulum proof: In 1851, Léon Foucault's pendulum gave visible proof of Earth's rotation. Suspended on a long cable, it traced shifting patterns as the planet moved beneath it. When displayed at the Pantheon in Paris, the swinging brass sphere etching sand amazed viewers. Foucault's elegant idea made complex science accessible. Today, similar pendulums still swing in museums, honoring Earth's motion and his timeless contribution.

Tree justice: In Australia, officials are tackling illegal tree cutting with bold signboards where trees were felled, blocking views vandals tried to create. Messages like "Trees shouldn't die for a view" call out the damage. The move follows rising reports of tree vandalism harming ecosystems and habitats. It's a creative strategy that's earned praise—and reminds us that shortcuts in nature protection often backfire.

Secret library: A hidden library found behind a wall at Tibet's Sakya Monastery revealed tens of thousands of ancient manuscripts. This treasure includes scriptures, history, and texts on art, science, and philosophy—many in Tibetan, Chinese, Mongolian, and Sanskrit. Some are bound in iron, written in gold. Now being digitized, the collection offers a rare glimpse into Tibet's rich, preserved knowledge.

GEMINI (May 21 - Jun 20)

Ideas may come at you fast and furious early in the week. A good opportunity might be among them, but give yourself a few days to sort them out before deciding. Lucky numbers: 4, 18, 25, 28, 36, 43.

CANCER (Jun 21 - Jul 22)

Your emotions may be running high mid-week, and you may be tempted to respond immediately. Perhaps first take a step back to gain more perspective on the situation. Lucky numbers: 3, 17, 21, 33, 42, 45.

LEO (Jul 23 - Aug 22)

Did You Know...

Nutmeg secrets: Nutmeg, once used medicinally for arthritis and digestion, contains myristicin, a compound that can cause hallucinations in large doses. In the 19th century, overuse sometimes led to serious health issues.

Cow steps: Cows can walk down stairs, but their weight, stiff necks, and unfamiliarity with steep slopes make it difficult. Their anatomy makes the task awkward, so they tend to avoid it.

Salad story: The Caesar salad wasn't named after Julius Caesar, but was created in the 1920s by chef Caesar Cardini in Tijuana, Mexico. Originally, diners dipped whole lettuce leaves into the dressing.

Rule makers: Founded in 1857, Sheffield FC is the world's oldest football club. Its members wrote the Sheffield Rules, which helped shape modern football, known as soccer in Canada.

Space sailors: "Astronaut" comes from Greek roots astron (star) and nautes (sailor), meaning "star sailor." "Cosmonaut" uses kosmos (universe) and nautes—both reflect humanity's push toward space.

On the Lighter Side

The man who invented velvet made a nice pile.

Tell a man there are billions of stars in the sky, he'll believe you. Tell him the paint is wet, and he has to touch it to be sure.

Scientist: "I can make a clone of anything."

Investor: "Here's $100. Double my money for me."

Mom Joke: Knock! Knock! Who's there? Colleen. Colleen who? Colleen up your room!!

Parallel lines have so much in common. It's a shame they'll never meet.

What do you call a fake noodle? An impasta.
